

THE DEMAND FOR IMPORTS IN JAPAN: A REVIEW ARTICLE

Tuck-Cheong Tang

School of Business, Monash University Malaysia, Selangor 46150, Malaysia

ABSTRACT

The aim of this paper is to review the vast existing research on import demand study as it relates to Japan, and finds that the results depend on model specification and the estimation technique. This paper also discusses the issues, which relates to the determinants of import demand for further research with reference to distinct streams of literature.

Keywords: Demand for imports; Japan.